CEO Perspective

Alan Armstrong, president and chief executive officer, made the following comments:

"Our third-quarter 2019 results show why we're so confident in the long-term sustainability of our business. Even in the current challenging commodity environment, we once again delivered year-over-year growth in our key financial metrics and remain on track for our 2019 guidance. Compared to third-quarter 2018, our Net Income increased by 71% and Cash Flow From Operations rose 15% as our demand-driven, natural gas strategy continues to drive earnings and steadily growing cash flows while maintaining strong dividend coverage.

"Williams is helping meet growing clean energy demands as highlighted by our Transco Pipeline system, which recently placed our Rivervale South to Market project into service in New Jersey, received approval from FERC for the Southeastern Trail expansion project and filed application with the FERC seeking authorization for the Leidy South project. Combined with other expansion projects under construction or in various levels of permitting, we expect Transco's system-design capacity to increase from its current 17.2 million dekatherms per day to more than 18 million dekatherms per day in time for the 2020/2021 winter heating season. We also completed and commissioned several key projects in the DJ and Wamsutter basins during the quarter."

Armstrong added, "Natural gas is fundamentally important to achieving both economic development and emissions reductions goals, both in the United States and abroad. As we continue to focus on connecting the best supplies to the best markets, natural gas demand will continue to drive realized and future growth for our business. And we will continue to run our business in an environmentally responsible manner as evidenced by the fact that since 2012, we've eliminated more than half of our methane emissions from our gas processing plants and transmission compressor stations."

GAAP Measures

- Third-quarter 2019 Net Income benefited from increased service revenues in the Atlantic-Gulf segment primarily from Transco expansion projects and in the Northeast G&P segment driven by growth in gathering volumes, partially offset by a decline in the West segment results due to lower commodity margins, lower deferred revenue recognition in the Barnett Shale associated with the end of a contractual minimum volume commitment (MVC) period, and the absence of the former Four Corners area business sold in fourth-quarter 2018. The current year also benefited from reduced operating and administrative expenses, including the absence of costs associated with the WPZ merger, and a favorable change in the provision for income taxes due primarily to the absence of 2018 valuation allowance charge on deferred tax assets that may not be realized following the WPZ merger. The period was negatively impacted by $114 million of impairments of equity-method investments and the absence of a $45 million benefit recognized in 2018 related to adjusting regulatory assets associated with an increase in Transco's estimated deferred state income tax rate following the WPZ merger. Net Income also reflects less income attributable to noncontrolling interests driven by the WPZ merger in third-quarter 2018.
- YTD 2019 Net Income benefited from increased service revenues in the Atlantic-Gulf segment primarily from Transco expansion projects and in the Northeast G&P segment driven by growth in volumes, partially offset by a decline in West segment results due to lower commodity margins and the absence of the former Four Corners area business. Other drivers of the improvement include reduced operating and administrative expenses, including the absence of costs associated with the WPZ merger, a $122 million gain on the sale of our 50% interest in Jackalope and the absence of a $105 million valuation allowance charge on deferred tax assets that may not be realized following the WPZ merger. These improvements were partially offset by $186 million of impairments of equity-method investments, the absence of a $62 million gain the prior year associated with the deconsolidation of our Jackalope interest, higher interest expense associated with financing obligations for leased pipeline capacity, a decrease in the allowance for equity funds used during construction (EAFUDC), and the previously described absence of a $45 million benefit recognized in 2018 related to adjusting regulatory assets. Asset impairments in the current year were substantially offset by similar levels of impairments in the prior year. Net income also reflects less income attributable to noncontrolling interests driven by the WPZ merger in third-quarter 2018.
- The increase in Cash Flow From Operations for third-quarter and YTD 2019 periods was largely driven by the increased service revenues in the Atlantic-Gulf and Northeast G&P segments and the collection of Transco's filed rates subject to refund, partially offset by the decline in West segment results. The YTD 2019 period also benefited from the receipt of an income tax refund.

Non-GAAP Measures

- The increase in Adjusted EBITDA for third-quarter 2019 and YTD 2019 largely reflects the previously mentioned increased service revenues in the Atlantic-Gulf and Northeast G&P segments, partially offset by the decline in West segment results.
- Adjusted Income for both the quarter and YTD periods also improved, driven by the higher Adjusted EBITDA and less income attributable to noncontrolling interests, partially offset by higher interest expense, lower EAFUDC, and an increased provision for income taxes.
- Third-quarter and YTD 2019 DCF are higher, reflecting the increased Adjusted EBITDA and lower maintenance capital, partially offset by higher net interest expense. The YTD increase also benefited from an income tax refund received in 2019.

Note: Williams uses Modified EBITDA for its segment reporting. Definitions of Modified EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA and schedules reconciling to net income are included in this news release.

Atlantic-Gulf

- Improvement in third-quarter and YTD 2019 Modified and Adjusted EBITDA is driven by Transco expansion projects, including Atlantic Sunrise (in service October 2018) and Gulf Connector (in service early January 2019) and $44 million of adjustments related to reaching settlement terms in the Transco Rate Case (pending FERC approval). The $44 million includes reductions to the reserve established against the filed rate we began collecting in March of this year along with other related accounting entries. Approximately $16 million of the $44 million relates specifically to third-quarter 2019.
- Unfavorably impacting results was reduced EAFUDC due to lower levels of construction activity.

West

- Lower third-quarter and YTD 2019 Modified and Adjusted EBITDA reflect lower NGL margins (excluding Four Corners) driven by lower NGL prices, the absence of EBITDA from our former Four Corners area business, the sale of our Jackalope interest, the absence of deferred revenue associated with our former Delaware basin assets that were contributed for our Brazos Permian II interest in December 2018, and lower deferred revenue recognition in the Barnett Shale associated with the end of a contractual MVC period.
- Modified EBITDA for the YTD 2019 period includes asset impairment charges that are excluded from Adjusted EBITDA.
- Third-quarter and YTD 2019 results reflect higher gathering volumes in the Eagle Ford and Haynesville. Eagle Ford gathering volumes increased by 19% versus third-quarter 2018 and by 10% YTD over the same reporting period in 2018. Haynesville gathering volumes increased by 18% versus third-quarter 2018 and by 9% YTD over the same reporting period in 2018.

Northeast G&P

- Improvement in Modified and Adjusted EBITDA for third-quarter and YTD 2019 was driven by increased service revenues from the Susquehanna Supply Hub, the Utica Shale region, and Ohio Valley, as well as the acquisition of Utica East Ohio Midstream.
- Both third-quarter and YTD 2019 reflect a 17% increase in gross gathering volumes, including 100% of operated equity-method investments, over the same reporting periods in 2018.

Non-GAAP Measures

This news release and accompanying materials may include certain financial measures – Adjusted EBITDA, adjusted income (“earnings”), adjusted earnings per share, distributable cash flow and dividend coverage ratio – that are non-GAAP financial measures as defined under the rules of the SEC.

Our segment performance measure, Modified EBITDA, is defined as net income (loss) before income (loss) from discontinued operations, income tax expense, net interest expense, equity earnings from equity-method investments, other net investing income, impairments of equity investments and goodwill, depreciation and amortization expense, and accretion expense associated with asset retirement obligations for nonregulated operations. We also add our proportional ownership share (based on ownership interest) of Modified EBITDA of equity-method investments.

Adjusted EBITDA further excludes items of income or loss that we characterize as unrepresentative of our ongoing operations. Management believes this measure provides investors meaningful insight into results from ongoing operations.

Distributable cash flow is defined as Adjusted EBITDA less maintenance capital expenditures, cash portion of net interest expense, income attributable to or dividends/ distributions paid to noncontrolling interests and cash income taxes, and certain other adjustments that management believes affects the comparability of results. Adjustments for maintenance capital expenditures and cash portion of interest expense include our proportionate share of these items of our equity-method investments. We also calculate the ratio of distributable cash flow to the total cash dividends paid (dividend coverage ratio). This measure reflects Williams’ distributable cash flow relative to its actual cash dividends paid.

This news release is accompanied by a reconciliation of these non-GAAP financial measures to their nearest GAAP financial measures. Management uses these financial measures because they are accepted financial indicators used by investors to compare company performance. In addition, management believes that these measures provide investors an enhanced perspective of the operating performance of assets and the cash that the business is generating.

Neither Adjusted EBITDA, adjusted income, nor distributable cash flow are intended to represent cash flows for the period, nor are they presented as an alternative to net income or cash flow from operations. They should not be considered in isolation or as substitutes for a measure of performance.

prepared in accordance with United States generally accepted accounting principles.
