EXPLANATORY NOTE

This Amendment No. 1 on Form 10-Q/A is being filed as an amendment to our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2004 to revise Part I. Item 4 contained in the original Form 10-Q. The amendments are made solely to clarify the Company's conclusion that its disclosure controls were effective. Language in the original report might have been read incorrectly to suggest that the conclusion was somehow qualified or limited. Unless the passage of time has rendered incorrect as of the time of its original filing any other information contained in the original Form 10-Q, such information has not been updated in this Form 10-Q/A. This Form 10-Q/A should be read in conjunction with our Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2004, and our Current Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 16, 2004.

Part I. Financial Information

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

An evaluation of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15(d) - (e) of the Securities Exchange Act) (Disclosure Controls) was performed as of the end of the period covered by this report. This evaluation was performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer. Based upon that evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that these Disclosure Controls are effective at a reasonable assurance level.

Our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that our Disclosure Controls or its internal controls over financial reporting (Internal Controls) will prevent all errors and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the company have been detected. These inherent limitations include the realities that judgments in decision-making can be faulty, and that breakdowns can occur because of simple error or mistake. Additionally, controls can be circumvented by the individual acts of some persons, by collusion of two or more people, or by management override of the control. The design of any system of controls also is based in part upon certain assumptions about the likelihood of future events, and there can be no assurance that any design will succeed in achieving its stated goals under all potential future conditions. Because of the inherent limitations in a cost-effective control system, misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. We monitor our Disclosure Controls and Internal Controls and make modifications as necessary; our intent in this regard is that the Disclosure Controls and the Internal Controls will be modified as systems change and conditions warrant.

As stated in our year-end report, we have identified certain portions of our account reconciliation process whereby the controls and policies are in the process of being enhanced across all business segments.

Notwithstanding the above, management concludes that its current controls are effective at a reasonable assurance level. In addition, there has been no material change in our Internal Controls that occurred during the registrant's first fiscal quarter.
