Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Principal Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Principal Officers.

On November 16, 2005, the Board of Directors (the "Board") of The Williams Companies, Inc. ("Company") increased the size of the Board to twelve and elected William R. Granberry to the Company's Board of Directors as a Class III director, to serve until the next Annual Meeting of Stockholders. The Board also appointed Mr. Granberry to serve on the Audit Committee and the Finance Committee. Mr. Granberry was identified by an external search firm.

Mr. Granberry has approximately 39 years of experience in oil and gas exploration and production. He is a partner in Compass Operating, LLC, in Midland, Texas. Compass explores for, develops and produces oil and gas in the Permian Basin of West Texas and southeast New Mexico.

There are no arrangements or understandings between Mr. Granberry and any other person pursuant to which he was selected as a director of the Company.

Mr. Granberry has no prior relationships or other transactions with the Company or its management.

A copy of the press release publicly announcing Mr. Granberry's election is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated by reference herein.

Item 5.03 Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year.

Effective November 17, 2005, the Company's Board amended the Company's By-laws to (i) add the designation of Chief Financial Officer in Article IV (Officers), Section 7; (ii) delete Article VIII (Indemnification) in its entirety and replace it with a new Article VIII and (iii) amend Article IX (Amendments) to correct a typographical error.

Pursuant to the prior By-laws of the Company, directors, officers, employees and agents and those persons serving (or who have served) at the request of the Company as a director, officer employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise were granted mandatory indemnification. Pursuant to the revised By-laws, those employees providing (or who have provided) service to any employee benefit plan in which the Company or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates participates or is a participating company and directors and officers of the Company and those persons serving (or who have served) at the request of the Company as a director or officer (including elected or appointed positions that are equivalent to director or officer) of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise are granted mandatory indemnification.

Pursuant to the prior By-laws of the Company, directors, officers, employees and agents were granted permissive advancement of expenses. Pursuant to the revised By-laws, Section 2(a) of Article VIII grants mandatory advancement of expenses to directors, the Chief Executive Officer, and the Chief Financial Officer. Section 2(b) of Article VIII of the revised By-Laws grants permissive advancement of expenses to officers of the Company and those employees providing (or who have provided) service to an employee benefit plan in which the Company or any of its subsidiaries or affiliates participates or is a participating company and those persons serving (or who have served) at the request of the Company as a director or officer (including elected or appointed positions that are equivalent to director or officer) of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise. Section 6 of Article VIII of the revised By-laws grants permissive indemnification and permissive advancement of expenses to employees (other than those employees providing (or who have provided) service to an employee benefit plan) and agents of the Company.

Section 3 of Article VIII of the revised By-laws sets forth the right of indemnitees to bring suit including a provision regarding fees for such suits and a provision that shifts the burden of proving that an indemnitee is not entitled to indemnification or to advancement of expenses to the Company. Previously the By-laws did not contain such fees or burden shifting provisions.

Section 7 of Article VIII of the revised By-laws includes a new provision to make any amendment, alternation or repeal of Article VIII that adversely affects any right of an indemnitee or its successors prospective only and does not limit or eliminate any such right with respect to any proceeding involving any occurrence or alleged occurrence of any action or omission to act that took place prior to such amendment or repeal.

Section 8 of Article VIII of the revised By-laws includes a new provision that requires the Company's written consent for any amounts paid in settlement of any action or claim.

Section 9 of Article VIII of the revised By-laws includes a new subrogation provision.

Section 10 of Article VIII of the revised By-laws includes a new provision for procedures for submission of claims pursuant to Article VIII.

A number of other provisions of the prior By-laws were deleted as they were deemed to be no longer necessary or incorporated into other sections of Article VIII.

Bill Granberry Joins Williams Board

TULSA, Okla. – William R. “Bill” Granberry has been elected to the Williams (NYSE:WMB) board of directors.

Granberry, 63, has approximately 39 years of experience in oil and gas exploration and production.

He is a partner in Compass Operating, LLC, in Midland, Texas. Compass explores for, develops and produces oil and gas in the Permian Basin of West Texas and southeast New Mexico.

Prior to Compass, Granberry has been a board member, president and chief operating officer of Tom Brown, Inc., and chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Mineral Development, Inc.

Granberry’s career also includes roles as general manager for John H. Hill, an independent oil and gas proprietor; vice president of production and acquisitions for PG&E Resources; and service at Amoco Production Co.

“Bill’s extensive background in oil and gas gives us added counsel and insight as we continue to develop our significant portfolio of natural gas reserves,” said Steve Malcolm, chairman, president and chief executive officer.

“He understands the inner workings of exploration and production and respects the importance of developing, as well as producing, natural resources.”

Granberry has a bachelor’s degree and a master’s degree in petroleum engineering from the University of Texas. The Houston native resides in Midland.
